REASONS FOR ALLOWANCE

1. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: the prior art of record, including the newly cited references fail to teach the limitations as claimed. For example, the Goldman et al. reference (US 2003/0015351 cited by applicant), which is considered the closest prior art, teaches a method and system adapted for selecting a bit to drill an Earth formation comprising: apparatus adapted to receive a list of bit candidates and determining average rock strength, apparatus adapted for determining cumulative rock strength, apparatus for performing economic analysis, and apparatus for selecting a bit candidate (see particularly Figs. 4A-C, paragraphs [0064], [0071], [0082], and [0108]-[0112]). However, the reference fails to teach or suggest an apparatus adapted for performing an economic analysis in connection with each bit candidate to determine if each is an inexpensive bit candidate nor does the reference teach apparatus adapted for selecting a bit candidate when resultant cumulative rock strength is greater than or equal to a predetermined value and each bit candidate is an inexpensive candidate as required by at least the broadest independent claims 49-51.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
